The story is related of a bishop who came to one of our state prisons and was told: "No need of you here, sir. Recently she requested each pupil to come on the following Sunday with some passage of Scripture bearing upon your enemies," "Little children, love one another," etc. The teacher said to the boy whose turn came last, 'Well, Robbie, what is your verse?' Raising wonderful things. Thing every day are the captivity. Seals are the captivity. Seals are and they rarely live ay from their native sea and rocksfor more than a year, and yet these sals, Bobby, Bibby and Tommy, have ber performing reg-ularly for six years, their longevity is undoubtedly due to the fact that they receive great care. The exact spot of the birthplace of these seals is not known, but when they were young sters they were found on one of the islands off Coxshaven in Germany. The German government does all it can to protect its fisher and as seals are a constant menace Il fish the government pays a reward of 5 marks for the capture of each seal. There is a famous seal fisherman in Germany named Worthman, and when Captain Weston, who had been on many sealing and whaling expeditions in the North sea, determined that he would give up the life of a sailor and become a landlubber it occurred to him that the training of seals would be novel and profitable. He went to Worthman, and together they captured the three sleek little fellows. There are many islands outside of Coxshaven, and one of the smallest was chosen. In describing the capture Captain Weston said: We stretched the net on one side of one of the smaller islands, and then went to the others and shot off pistols and made a noise, driving many seals into the waone tumultuous somersault together.

Lord William's disconstruct proved to be Mr. Gibson's opportunity. The time and ground that the former had lost by his feature proved dived down and became entangled in the net, and a seal will drown if kept five net, and a seal of lid drown if kept five minutes under at the minutes u killing one another, until there were aback.

Exchange It looks easy to see one of my seals play the banjo or a harp, but it took me three months of hard work every day to teach them to do this even in an imperfect manner, and the only reason that I can give is that they have been at it long enough to learn.

I have never before known a seal to live in captivity over one year, and yet I have had mine many times that. I am often surprised at their intelligence. Especially is this true of Bobby, the clown. I believe that that fish understands humor, because he does things at times which actually make me laugh, to say nothing about the audience. is the best seal I ever had, the best I ever will have, and I think that he has an affection for me, and that he knows almost everything that I say to him, Yes, the care of seals is a great one

Mothers Who Are Taxpayers. A committee on woman suffrage has been appointed by the Iowa house of representatives. The chairman, Mr. Chapman, has introduced a bill for a constitutional amendment to enable women to vote. Mr. Watkins has introduced a municipal suffrage bill. In the senate a committee on constitutional amendments and suffrage has been appointed Senator Palmer, the chairman, early in troduced bills to grant women the suffrage at general and municipal elections. Senator Jameston has reported a joint resolution for a constitutional amend-ment. The Des Moines Capital says: "The petitions of 'mothers who are taxpayers,' sent out by the corresponding secretary of the Iowa Woman Suf-frage association are being signed by such mothers throughout the state. Only one-sixth of these petitions have been returned, but over 400 names of taxpaying mothers have been signed to them. The names of 91 have been sent from Chariton, the home of Lieutenant Governor Dungan. It remains to be seen whether this Iowa legislature will deny the principle, which has been proclaimed and fought for by men since forcing the Magna Charta from King John, that "taxation without representation is tyranny.'
